Choose a problem in the story. How could this problem have been avoided? What would you like to find out in the story?

Identify any unfamiliar vords in the How are you and the main character alike?

Hew does the story end? What background do you bring to the story?

who are the main How would you attempt to solve a problem in the story?

Predict how the story will end. What questions do you have about the story?

Identity any unfamilia Words in t What lessons can you learn from the story?

Summarize the story. Who is the author?

Where does the story take place? Who are the main characters? Which character can you relate to so far? Why? What do the pictures on the cover tell you about the story?

How might you retitle the story? Why?

How was a problem solved?

Who is the illustrator?

dentify one problem or conflict in the story.

Where does the story take place?

How does the story relate to your life? What do the pictures in the book tell you about the story?

> Identify any wrtamiliar bras in the title,

How might you end the story differently?

Identify a paragraph that used descriptive writing.

Is the story fiction or nonfiction? Identify and predict how a problem may be solved.

Identify one problem or conflict in the story.

Note: The internet is a great resource that you can use to find many other reading comprehension questions and activities, which you can do with your child at home, to help strengthen their reading abilities!

Thank you for your support with this!